PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Things are hotting up for the 1994 Nationals Titles, rapidly approaching. There is a possibility of Matheiu Weber competing, and we know that Ian Sproul is making the 4,000 km. journey from Perth. It is shaping up to be a wonderful event. All credit must go to Gunter Wandtke, Brian Thomas and Adam Carroll for all of their efforts in organising these Titles. Sadly our Secretary, Richard Barras has decided to join Rohan Johnstone in stepping down from the post as Secretary, so on behalf of all of the members of the BAA we thank Richard for his work during the past three years.

Nick Gottschalk has continued to work tirelessly promoting the BAA so I do hope that one day all of his work for the community as well as the BAA is finally noticed by someone from either the Government or one of the high profile organisations.

The on again off again Japan World Cup is now well on the way to being held in Japan in August. No one has confirmed their definite intentions of going, but I do hope that a team of Aussies do go and compete successfully.

Congratulations to Colin Foley for being the successful bidder in our fund raising quest for the two boomerangs donated by Roger Perry. The $50 is much needed by the BAA so again thanks to Roger for the boomerangs.

I still hear complaints about articles in the Bulletin, but we must stress that we have more members than just the Editor, myself and Brian Thomas, so please throwers if you have some news of interest please send a note to the Editor so that we all know what is happening around the traps.

And finally please remember that May 7th and 8th - is the date of our Albury Championships - a special event in which we will help Arthur Janetzki celebrate his 90th birthday. Keep your booms spinnin' and I will hope to catch up with everybody soon.

Bruce Carter
President.

NEW AUSSIE ROUND RECORD SET!

A new World Record for Aussie Round was set recently in the United States at the 1993 United States Championships by and on the same day, and the very next throw, the record was broken again by

M. Weary 92 / 100

Commiserations to Br. Brian Thomas whose record (90 / 100) has stood for nearly 11 years.

1994 GIPPSLAND GAMES

At the recent Gippsland Games, we were donated 5 sets of medals from organisers, commemorating these 1994 Games. With the medals as prizes, we were able to conduct an Accuracy competition for beginners in an attempt to promote our sport. We had an ark on the ground where the throwers launched a hornet from. Once the boomerang landed, the thrower took large steps, jumps, whatever towards their boomerang. Within 3 steps, scored 10 points, 5 - scored 5 points and within 10 paces scored 1 point - each thrower had 3 throws and the scores were totalled.

Over 30 entrants entered - most of who had never thrown a boomerang before, the only category which had a low number of entrants was the girls in the ages of between 10 & 17 - only two entered, but on the other side of the scale the numbers were quite high - especially the children aged under 10 years old. Other categories were boys 10 to 17, Open Men and Open Women. The youngest entrants were both aged 4 years old and the eldest (who picked up a bronze medal) was 78 year old Dick Harris. The winning junior boy (after a play off) was Claas Huer - a visitor from Germany and one thrower, Ashley Zuber managed to have his boomerang land in the middle of the throwing circle. - Mind you to prove his consistency HIS OTHER two throws both scored zero. Maybe next year, we will be invited back to the Gippsland Games and we can introduce a few more new comers to the sport, but whatever happens we cannot fail to appreciate the work Nick Gottschalk had to do to get boomerang throwing involved with the Games. Also we thank Rob Croll and Dennis Maxwell for their much needed assistance.

Bruce Carter.

ABOUT FISHING BOOMERANGS

Frequently mentioned, but rarely discussed at any length. That's the fishing boomerang of Australia.

Fishing boomerang? Seems a contradiction in terms for a flying object.

Not really. It is precisely the spinning action of the specialised throwstick which makes it effective in slicing through water to kill or stun. Angular momentum combines with sharp edges to do the work.

Kim Ackerman of the Northern Territory Museum in Darwin grew up with the Aborigines and saw fishing' rangs being used, and wielded them himself. The archaeologist comments:

"I have seen the Bardi using the karkapin (the bloated tomahawk type) and kulme (see illustration below) types made from kurili (Canops tagal, a mangrove). More commonly, however, metal boomerangs known as tangk, (e.g., from the water tank galvanised iron they were originally cut from) are used for fishing. Children tend to use them these days more than adults although fifteen years ago most able-bodied middle-aged men among the Bardi of Dampierland Peninsula in northwestern Australia had one or two iron boomerangs they used on a more regular basis. Hunting was done by wading along a beach or mangrove area on the incoming tide and striking the fish, mullet particularly, that shoaled in.

"I also recall reading that 'cutlass-shaped' wooden artefacts (i.e., boomerangs) were used to strike fish in the 1790s at Port Jackson, New South Wales."

"When I was a child, European boys in Perth, West Australia, used to hunt fish in the Swan River with cross boomerangs made out of tin. Mullet and smelt used to be the primary target, although anything really was fair game. These boomerangs were known by us as kylies, directly adapted from the Bibbulman language of the area. Kylie was the generic name for boomerangs."

"When the Bardi fished, a shoal of fish was either stalked or the hunter would stand motionless until it was in within range, three metres or less. The missile would then be forcefully thrown into the shoal, usually killing at least one fish but often stunning two or three. Naturally, the thinner and heavier metal boomerangs were more efficient, but the wood ones would float and in murky water be easier to retrieve. Five to six fish seemed to satisfy most individuals. If a group -- family or peers -- were fishing, a fire would be burning continually and fish cooked and eaten as they were caught."

To round out his reminiscence, Ackerman gives historic citations to amplify the picture of their use.

"The natives of the Parnkalla tribe, near Port Lincoln, frequently go fishing at night, each man carrying a torch, which is replenished by a bunch of inflammable wood. The light attracts the fish, which, as they rise, are struck by the wadna (boomerang)." Angas, G. F., Savage Life in Australia and New Zealand, 1847.

"To capture smaller fish, especially shoaling species, they (natives of Broome, Roebuck Bay, West Australia) employed a fish boomerang, an implement consisting of a thin wooden board shaped like a broad sickle, curving almost at right angles and having sharpened edges. The fisherman grips the longer end of the implement, the curved back of the boomerang turned upwards, and takes up his position at a place where the shoals pass. The boomerang, when thrown, whirls like a wheel and, entering the water, may cut through a number of fish." Dahl, Knut, In Savage Australia, 1927.

"In shallow water, fish are killed by throwing the kaili at them, when they are five or six inches below the surface. The writer saw a native in Cossack Creek kill eleven fishes, weighing from one to two pounds, in less than half an hour, by means of kaili. "Clements, E., Ethnographic Notes of the Western Australian Aborigines, 1903.

"A broad and flat kylie is used, having a more acute angle of bend, and with straighter arms than usual, and fish are killed by means of these kylies when near the surface of the water. The islanders have discovered that kylies made out of thin iron, such as ships' tanks, are the most serviceable, and they show great dexterity in making them. A typical fishing boomerang might be 16 ½ inches wide between the extremities, 3 ½ inches wide at the elbow, and the inner and outer edges have a curvature of 5 ½ and 10 inches." Campbell, W. P. and Bird, W. H., An Account of the Aborigines of Sunday Island, King Sound, Kimberley, West Australia, 1915.

BOOMERANG DEMONSTRATIONS COMING TO BELLBIRD PARK

BOOMERANG AUCTION RESULTS!

Displays of boomerang throwing and catching will be part of the 1994 Gippsland Games for the first time.

Nick Gottschalk, publicity officer of the Boomerang Association of Australia Inc., and former Warragul resident (1954-62) says that some of Australia's top boomerang throwers will be at Bellbird Park on Sunday February 20th.

The throwers are State and National Title holders who have also competed overseas during challenge matches, World Cups and World Championships.

The 1992 World Titles attracted competitors from 16 nations.

The demonstrations at Bellbird Park should include an accuracy competition, trick catching and "doubling" which is throwing two boomerangs simultaneously.

There will also be an endurance event in which competitors throw and catch as many boomerangs as possible over a given time of one, two or five minutes.

Spectators will be invited to enter a novice competition where they can receive expert tuition, a chance to win a competition boomerang or purchase craftsman made boomerangs.

As mentioned in the last President's Report, Roger Perry is generously donating the above boomerang for auction to raise money for the club. The Boomerang is either a competition Hook or MTA. The highest bidder has his or her choice of the following:-

- A 50 metre Maple Flying Fox for wind or a 40 metre Aussie Hook for light wind.
- Paxolin MTA for wind OR Wood MTA no wind.

Both the Hook and MTA will be flight tuned and ready for competition in either left or right hand. The winning bidder chooses 1 Hook and 1 MTA. Roger will send the booms to them.

RESULTS OF THE BOOMERANG AUCTION

BOOMERANG THROWING DEBUTES AT GIPPSLAND GAMES

Boomerang throwing was included in this years Gippsland Games, for the first time, Nick Gottschalk had been very enthusiastic in his endeavours to see our sport in these games, and he was quite excited when things were finally organised. Nick even made a few long trips, from his home in Bairnsdale to Drouin, site of the events, just to make sure everything went smoothly. He organised Dennis, Rob & Myself for a competition, to be followed by a novice comp. in Accuracy for newcomers, (results for the newcomers are included in this bulletin). I visited Drouin the previous Tuesday night and did a small night throw for a few locals. included in my repertoire was throwing a brand new Perry "fever" which we had just fitted with some LED lights. This boomerang was quite special - it flew high, had a good spin rate and even returned to the thrower - unusual for Roger rangers.... Anyway, imagine my concern when I roll up to Drouin to discover that Rob had half of my new boomerangs - it had obviously fallen out of my bag as I was leaving on the Tuesday night and sometime between Tuesday & Sunday, workmen had decided to mow the ovals... I was left with half a boomerang and millions of small pieces from the other half.

It was fairly windy, so the so called experts comp was cancelled and beginners were taught how to throw... In our afternoon session, it was comp time in Accuracy. Dennis and Nick were teaching and Rob and I conducted the competition. After much confusion all competitors were given a commemorative certificate and five sets of God, Silver & Bronze medallions were presented... hree lots of pay offs had to be conducted due to the evenness of the competition, and we even had a teenager from Germany with the junior boy section, but the highlight was Ashley Zuber scoring a perfect 10. We presented him with a hornet and it was straight after the competition that he let fly with his new weapon. Straight into a 20 knot wind... It sailed from the edge of the ground and nearly landed in the centre wicket area where a cricket match was under way. A fieldsman was going to wear this boomerang, when he stepped forward, a few steps tp pick up a cricket ball which had been hit his way. When he went back to his fielding spot he found this boomerang. He picked it up and the bowler releasing his nect ball - a ball that nearly scalped the batsmen... No time to do anything with the boomerang. Next ball and a cheeky single, just so the batsman could get to the other end to clm his nerves after nearly losing his head. Now our fieldsman friend had a slight delay in play so he tries to throw the boomerang back to its owner-- -- off over his head and our poor mate who one minute earlier had to duck a cricket ball - nearly gets decapitated by a boomerang... Finally the boomerang is returned to the owner and peace is returned until a middle aged gentleman comes steaming over to me complaining that he should be able to watch a game of cricket without having to worry about being belted by a flying object - our newcomer had not learned had not learned his lesson and had kept on throwing - apparantly having the boomerang crash near this spectator... I agreed that it should be sfe to watch cricket from the fence line, but had to smile when he stated that if the boomerang landed near him again he would "break it into a million pieces" - fine except this was plastic and according to Mr Blight - quite unbreakable, but no one had the heart to tell this to our cricket fan..

I went to the guys throwing the boomerang around and asked them why didn't they follow the instructions - usual reply - did not bother to read them and threw them in the rubbish bin.

No damage done and the dust settled, the cricket kept on going and we all packed up and headed home.. But just a bit concerned that maybe our latest recruit might still be scaring all the locals

Bruce Carter.

OFFICIAL INVITATION TO 94 WORLD TEAM CUP IN JAPAN

Dear Throwers,

This is an official invitation to the '94 World Boomerang Team Cup to be held in Hiratsuka, Japan.

On behalf of Japan Boomerang Association, I am pleased to inform you officially that 94 World Team Cup shall be held in Hiratsuka, Japan in August 1994.

I concurrently apologise to you of any inconvenience caused by my delay of announcement on this matter.

Due to the limited space of the field, I would like to have your consensus on the change in the number of throwers to be registered in each team, i.e. five(5) instead of six(6) and so is the number of throwers in each event, i.e. three(3) instead of four(4).

The date and period shall be from August 3, to August 10, 1994. The schedule may be slightly altered due to the fact that a professional soccer team is to be established in Hiratsuka city this year, who has the first priority of using the field. At this stage their schedule is not fixed yet.

However, this change, if happened, may not affect on our total period but on the date of actual competition, i.e. the date of using the field during the period.

I do hope you are interested in visiting Japan : the first hosting country in the orient, and in participating in the exciting team cup in August, 1994.

Enclosed is a brief information on the field and accommodation.

Terribly sorry for being written in Japanese. I shall send you more details of how to get there in English.

I am looking forward to seeing you in Japan.

Sincerely,
(Many Happy Returns)
